

PYRTH ANNWN

By Annwyn Sol

If you're feeling down,
And you can not afford to feed your soul
There is a place that you should know about.
Where the Magi live and lovers give,
And finding Faery's blue panties is a prerogative
When you gaze into the revel fire there is no doubt.

Chorus:

That you have arrived between the worlds
Reality solved and love is unfurled
It all seems so small when you gaze down from the moon.
Because the heart is strong with the love of friends
And the bestest thing about it is it never ends.
You will know that you have arrived at this place
...called Pyrth Annwn

The heart is full of dreams
And you may never find another
Who will love you quite the way that you can do.
You can find it within and not without
Add a little bit of loving to make you twist and shout.
Give into the all and find what's true.

Chorus

That you have arrived between the worlds
Reality solved and love is unfurled
It all seems so small when you gaze down from the moon.
Because the heart is strong with the love of friends
And the bestest thing about it is it never ends.
You will know that you have arrived at this place
...called Pyrth Annwn

And now the family we all choose
Is built upon the building blocks of love
Every moment of our lives they're near and dear
And the one is here and the all is there
I mean it's just like Santa Claus, because he's everywhere
When you're welcomed by their smiles
You'll know you're here

Chorus

That you have arrived between the worlds
Reality solved and love is unfurled
It all seems so small when you gaze down from the moon.
Because the heart is strong with the love of friends
And the bestest thing about it is it never ends.
You will know that you have arrived at this place
...called Pyrth Annwn

Last Chorus:

And the heart is strong with the love of friends
And the bestest thing about it is it never ends
And you will know that you have arrived at this place
...called Pyrth Annwn.
